Elwyn Flint Papers

Size 60 boxes, 1 parcel

Content This collection comprises written documents collected by Flint mostly as part of a long term research project in the 1960s, known as the Queensland Speech Survey, during which Flint recorded traditional Aboriginal Languages. This collection also documents the Yuulngu (Gupapuyngu) language. Other parts of the collection include journal articles of languages, correspondence with field-linguists and staff from academic institutions, Indonesian material, and documentation of the English spoken by Australian Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, Australian and regional pidgins, "migrants" and "mother-tongue" people from different ages, regions or socio-economic groups.

Date range 1926 to 1974

Biography Elwyn Flint completed honours in Modern Languages and Literature in 1927, and was appointed as a reader in his department, before becoming a priest in 1938. He was an army chaplain and intelligence officer before being discharged in 1946. He was appointed as a junior lecturer at the University of Queensland and eventually senior lecturer in 1958. Flint's intense interest in language variation led him to record the variety of languages spoken in Queensland and parts of Asia and Indonesia. He published the results of his research.

Notes Unrestricted access, except some restrictions to tapes in Box 42, and Box 3 folders 26 – 28 are fragile and have been preserved on CD. Compiled by Jeanie Bell, Anke Boewe, Kate Donnelly & Mary Laughren, Supervised and assisted by Roslyn Follett and staff of the Fryer Library. The compilation of this catalogue was financed by an Australian Institute of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Studies, Canberra, Small Grant No. L96/5117 (1996) to Mary Laughren and by funding made available in 1996 to Jeanie Bell from the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Corporation of Languages through the Kombumerri Aboriginal Corporation for Culture, Rochedale Qld.
