Marie McFarlane Collection

Size	18 boxes, 34 posters
Contents	Reports, pamphlets, brochures, conference material, meeting minutes, correspondence, journals and posters relating to Left-wing politics in Brisbane with an emphasis on women's movement activities and trade union activity within Telecom Australia. Collection also includes family photographs, ephemera and trade union and Australian Labor Party membership tickets.
Date range	1949 to 1995. Bulk of records cover 1980s and early 1990s
Biography	Marie McFarlane was a member of the Australian Postal and Telecommunication Union from 1974 until 1988 and for many years one of the union's shop stewards. In 1978 she was elected inaugural secretary of the Working Women's Charter Committee of the Trades and Labor Council of Queensland, a position she held until 1987. After changing jobs in 1988 she joined the Australian Telecommunications Employees' Association/Australian Telephone and Phonogram Officers' Association where she was again active as a shop steward. In addition to her trade union work McFarlane was involved in a number of political causes and leftwing organisations.
