Policies and Regulations Governing the Use of the Avery Brundage Collection

This Portion of the Application is to be Kept by the Applicant for Future Reference.

CONSULTATION

1. Persons shall make written application via the form below for permission to examine the collection. Permission, subject to any general restrictions on access, will be granted at the discretion of the Manager, Fryer Library to qualified and properly accredited persons whose purposes are acceptable.

2. Archival materials may be used only in the Fryer Library. Users are required to conform to the regulations governing handling and note-taking specified by the Manager, Fryer Library.

COPYING

3. Archives may not be copied by any process unless the applicant has given, by his/her signature on the attached application form, written assurance to the Manager, Fryer Library that no document or substantial portion of a document will be published or reproduced without the permission of the writer or his/her legal representative.

4. Permission to copy will normally be granted upon receipt of such assurance.

PUBLICATION

5. Permission to examine or to copy archival material does not convey the right to publish or to reproduce the material. Publication privileges may be secured only upon the authorisation of the holder of the copyright or the literary property rights. The owner of the literary rights may be the writer him/herself, his/her heirs or assigns, his/her legal representative or The University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Responsibility for obtaining permission to publish rests with the researcher and his/her publishers. He/she understands that others may have legal rights prohibiting copying or quotation and, specifically, agrees to reimburse The University of Illinois for any loss occasioned to it because of the infringement of such rights. The University makes no representations to the literary rights, unless such rights have been given to the University.

6. Permission to publish will ordinarily be granted provided that: the applicant appears competent to deal with the materials in question (as attested by the applicant's references or by his position); the contemplated research project meets commonly-accepted standards of scholarship; prior publication rights to the material have not already been reserved for another scholar; and written permission for the specific use intended has been secured from the holder of the literary rights.

7. Where permission to publish is granted, the applicant agrees to indicate in the published work that the original manuscript is located in The University of Illinois Archives and to assume full and complete responsibility for any infringement of copyright or literary rights that may grow out of the use or publication of the material.

8. In giving permission to copy or publish archival material The University of Illinois does not surrender its own right to publish the material or to give others the right to publish it, though it would normally refrain from either action until the first-permitted publication has occurred. In giving permission to copy or publish, the University does not assume any responsibility for infringement of copyright or of the publication rights in the manuscripts held by the writer, his/her heirs, executors or assigns. While The University of Illinois will endeavor to protect and assure scholarly rights, it cannot guarantee such protection.
