Paul Davies Collection

Size	49 boxes
Contents	Television scripts and supporting material
Date range	1974 to 2002
Biography	Paul Davies worked with Crawford Productions in the 1970s as a series editor and writer, and was involved with popular series such as Homicide (1974 to 1975), The Box (1975 to 1976) and The Sullivans (1976 to 1978). During the 1980s Davies wrote for film, television and the stage. Two of his plays, Storming Mont Albert by Tram (1982) and On Shifting Sandshoes (1988), received Australian Writers Guild Awards. He also worked with the Melbourne-based company TheatreWorks as an actor, writer and member of the Artistic Directorate. Since the early 1990s, Davies has worked on several major Australian drama series, notably Blue Heelers (1997 to 1998), Stingers (1998 to 2003), and Something in the Air (2000 to 2001). During his career Davies lectured at various tertiary educational institutions, while also contributing articles and papers to various academic and industry journals. – [Excerpted from AustLit.]
